About

Hello, my name is Ahmet. I was born on May 7, 1996. In the early years of my career, I developed using the jQuery framework and mainly worked on the Frontend coding of websites designed for corporate companies. In order to improve myself individually, I also worked on Backend technologies. After a while, I became familiar with modern JavaScript libraries and first used React. As I became more familiar with modern frameworks, I also developed with other frameworks such as Vue. Currently, I am actively developing with Vue, React, and jQuery in the Frontend field. Additionally, I am working on projects in the Backend field individually using NODEJS, C# and PHP.
